*Engagements include multiple company meetings during the year with the same company. Most engagement conversations cover multiple topics.

On January 1, 2025, BlackRock Stewardship increased the level of detail reported on certain engagement topics captured while discontinuing other sub-topics that were seldom used. This provides more relevant information and further transparency to our clients. The report now reflects the improved transparency in any engagement post January 1, 2025.

For more information on our engagement topics see the "Enagement Priorities & Topics" tab.

BlackRock Stewardship Engagement Priorities

Each year we prioritize our work around engagement themes to encourage sound governance practices and deliver sustainable long-term financial performance for clients. Our approach emphasizes direct dialogue with companies.

Board Quality and Effectiveness - The performance of the board is critical to the financial success of a company and the protection of shareholders’ interests over the long-term.

Strategy Purpose and Financial Resilience - As one of many minority shareholders, BlackRock does not direct a company’s strategy or its implementation. BlackRock Stewardship engages on long-term corporate strategy, purpose, and financial resilience, to understand how boards and management are aligning their business decision-making with the company’s purpose and adjusting strategy and/or capital allocation plans as necessary as business dynamics change.

Incentives Aligned with Value Creation - Executive compensation is an important tool to drive long-term financial value creation by incentivizing and rewarding the successful delivery of strategy goals and financial outperformance against peers. It is helpful when companies make clear in their disclosures the connection between compensation policies and outcomes and the financial interests of long-term shareholders.

Climate and Natural Capital - BlackRock Stewardship engages with companies to better understand their approach to, and oversight of, material climate-related risks and opportunities, as well as how they manage material natural capital impacts and dependencies, in the context of their business model and sector.

Company Impacts on People - In BlackRock Stewardship’s experience, companies that invest in the relationships that are critical to their ability to meet their strategic objectives are more likely to deliver durable, long-term financial performance. By contrast, poor relationships may create adverse impacts that could expose companies to legal, regulatory, operational, and reputational risks.
